

BMA SAS rate card

This rate card must be read with the related guidance. The rates apply to extra-contractual work in the context of your employment. Activities that you are asked to undertake over and above your obligations under your standard contract and agreed job plan constitute extra-contractual work. Such work is distinct from your contractual duties and you are therefore entitled to payment in addition to your usual contractual pay for undertaking the same.

This rate card is designed to help you assess the value of your time and the rates upon which you are willing to undertake extra-contractual work for your employer.

You are not obliged to agree to deliver any work beyond your standard contract and therefore can offer a rate that you consider values your time appropriately for any such work. You do not have to accept the rate offered by your employer. This is the case regardless of whether you work full-time (10 PAs) or less than full-time.

Extra-contractual work includes Waiting List Initiatives (WLIs) and additional lists, shifts or on-calls that your employer asks you to deliver that are not already a part of your agreed job plan.

BMA supervised SAS minimum extra contractual rate card – Valid from April 2023

The supervised SAS rates apply where the work involves delivering care on rotas or in settings in which the doctor's work is supervised. This includes Specialty Doctors whose work is overseen by a senior SAS or consultant colleague. Examples include providing additional intermediate tier on-call, additional assistance in theatre or clinics for procedures, and assisting additional operating sessions.

When acting up to cover a colleague and not being supervised, the autonomous SAS rates will apply.
